

CURRICULUM VITAE

MARY CUNNINGHAM AGEE

President and Founder of the Nurturing Network, Corporate Strategic Planner,
Charitable Entrepreneur, Best-selling Author, Devoted Wife and Mother

CURRENT EMPLOYMENT

Mary Cunningham Agee is the Founder and President of the Nurturing Network, an international charitable organization that provides a positive alternative to abortion to any woman facing the crisis of an unplanned pregnancy. Since 1985, the Network has specialized in offering an individually-tailored program of practical support free of charge to college students and working women all over the world.

TNN's 48,000 Resource Members are located in all 50 states and in over 30 foreign countries where they provide counseling, medical services, nurturing homes, employment, educational opportunities and financial assistance. Setting politics and rhetoric aside, the Network has provided for the urgent and practical needs of over 18,000 women. Each has been empowered to nurture her child's life . . . without compromising her own.

For almost thirty years, Mrs. Agee has also served as President and CEO the Semper Charitable Foundation. She is a general partner in Semper Partners, a venture capital and strategy consulting firm founded in partnership with her husband.

PREVIOUS EMPLOYMENT

Mrs. Agee has served in the top management of two Fortune 100 companies as the Vice President of Strategic Planning. As a result of her successful efforts in the development of a worldwide wine strategy for Joseph E. Seagram and Sons, she was promoted to the position of Executive Vice President of the Seagram Wine Company.

Mrs. Agee's international banking experience also includes serving as Assistant Treasurer in the Corporate Banking Department of the Chase Manhattan Bank World Headquarters and as a Financial Analyst in the Corporate Finance Department of Salomon Brothers.
